Belen then drew a knife and stabbed him.

Very few persons attended Flamand's funeral to-day.

Ministerial crisis expected, about the elections.

CONSUL BAKER'S REPORT.

Mr. Baker the popular American Consul in Buenos Ayres, has remitted to his Department at Washington a most exhaustive and favorable report on this country, and, departing from the customary routine of such documents, has supplemented his report with a very able treatise on the progress of agriculture in the Plate. We cannot for a moment doubt the very beneficial influence which this paper of Mr. Baker is calculated to effect in the many circles of the Amerecrican reading public. Consular reports as a rule receive more attention in the United States than in other countries, owing to their reproduction by the press, and the great criticisms which they receive from trade journals. Consul Baker's report and treatise fill so many pages in the consular pamphlet that we are obliged to introduce it in chapters to our readers, but we recommend these chapters to the attention of all, as affording an explanation of the numerous letters we now receive by almost every mail from parties in the Western States who thing of coming to permanently settle in the Plate.:—

"Considering the interest which the United States, as a great grain-producing country, has in the question of the future food supply of the world, I have deemed it of some interest to consider the present condition and prospects of agriculture in the Argentine Republic; and the result of my investigations, after many difficulties in obtaining reliable information in the general absence of statistics, is the report which I now inclose. It attempts to give a glance at the early history of terraculture in this country, the difficulties it has had to contend with, the efforts made of late years for its promotion, the approximate breadth of land now in cultivation, the different crops which are grown, the imports and exports of cereals for the last twelve years, and the general agricultural outlook of the country.

Our agriculturists may not be aware of the fact that the Argentine Republic is looking forward to a time when it will successfully compete with the United States in furnishing food to the people of England and the European continent. I do not thing that such an event will happen in the very near future; but it is a fact that the Argentine Republic is making gigantic strides in the development of its agricultural resources, and shows an annually increasing surplus of breadstuffs for exportation.

OLD THEORY THAT THE PAMPAS COULD NOT BE CULTIVATED.

This development is all the more marvelous for the reason that from the time of the Spanish conquest until within the last few years the upper portions of the country have been too remote and inaccessible to market to make agriculture an object among the people, while it has been the general belief that the pampa provinces were not suitable for agricultural purposes. Even Dr. Burmeister, the celebrated German scientist, now in charge of the Argentine National Museum, has only recently expressed a similar opinion, insisting that the principal occupation of the country, in view of the disposition of the soil, must continue to be the breeding of cattle and sheep, although he admits that "small portions of it may be changed into cultivated fields, and in others abundant orchards may be created."

Is is true, however, that the business of cattle and sheep breeding has these many years been so lucrative and so easy that the indolent gauchos, much less the owners of these immense flocks and herds, could have no object in changing it for an occupation so exacting and laborious as the cultivation of the soil; and it is only since the recent impotus which agriculture has received by the advent of European immigration that the plow may be really said to have commenced its civilizing work in the Argentine Republic. The French and Spanish Basques, and especially the Italians, who are now seeking new homes in the River Plate country, are, however, quite upsetting all the old, preconceived ideas about the pampas, and wherever they can obtain a foothold upon them they are gradually wresting them from the dominion of the cattle estanciero.

ANALYSIS OF THE SOIL.

Our own experience with reference to the great western plains of the United States, which in all their essential particulars correspond to the Argentine pampas, has long since not only exploded the theory that a soil without trees is necessarily unfit for general cultivation, but it has done more, and proved that our most important grain-producing regions are the States of Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, and Kansas, all of which were primitively in great part devoid of timber. The same fact, in my opinion, will yet be made plain with reference to the immense pampas of this republic. There is no doubt that they possess all the primary conditions for the successful prosecution of agriculture. While the climate is in the highest degree favorable for the cultivation of the soil, the soil itself is astonishingly fertile; Professor Girsebach, the celebrated phytogeographer, says "excessively" fertile and hardly to be surpassed anywhere, "offering at least as favorable a field to agriculture as the Far West of the United States of North America"

THE MONTEVIDEAN TRAGEDY

The affray at the private residence of President Santos in Montevideo, on Wednesday afternoon, is but another of those sanguinary chapters which too often it falls to our lot, to be compelled to record. Strange fact, the knife holds a greater supremacy in Montevideo than in any other part of South America that we know of. The passions of men reach a wilder ascendancy in Montevideo than elsewhere. What in any other country would be accepted as a simple rebuff by an officer in the strict obedience to his orders, is in Montevideo interpreted as an insult leading to assault and mortal combat. These frequent scenes of blood and strife in a community so civilized, in a city so fair, and in a land so endowed by nature, suggest the reflection that there is some great defect in the Oriental character which neutralizes many of their good qualities and virtues. Calmness, common sense and patience are wanting in the average make-up of the Montevidean character; the slightest trouble or annoyance plunges the Oriental into a blind passion in the paroxysm of which we believe he is almost unaccountable for his actions. The story is soon told: Commander Flamand calls at President Santos's private house. Col. Belen, the President's aide-de-camp, informs him that he has received orders not to admit him and cannot announce him. Flamand fires up in an instant and strikes Belen with his stick on the head and body, beating him, as we are given to understand, most unmercifully. Belen defends himself and in the heat of the encounter pulls out a "puñal" or long life, and stabs Flamand through the heart and stomach; the scene closes over the corpse of Flamand, that lies bleeding at the very door of President Santos's house. Of course until we receive more details it is impossible to comment further on this sad affair, but we give the following anecdotes or mems about the victim, which we extract from a morning colleague.

Commander Flamand was a mam of about thirty-eight years of age, high complexion, and fine presence, and he enjoyed a well-founded reputation for individual merit. Whilst 'ayudante' of the Government during Latorre's Dictatorship he had a personal quarrel with Commander Evia, a man of well proved courage and now deceased, receiving on that occasion a dagger wound in exchange for two revolver shots that he directed at his adversary. About the same time he obtained a grant of privilege for the manufacture of matches, and worked it in partnership with a Mr. Dupuy; the enterprise, however, proved anything but profitable. Up to a short time ago, and we suppose until his death, he drew the pay of his rank in the 5th Cazadores, even although not serving in that corps.

On the 10th January 1875, exactly nine years ago, Flamand was on duty as captain of one of the groups that assisted in a spectacle in the principal plaza of Montevideo amongst the throes of which Santos succeeded Latorre on the political stage. On the anniversary of that iniquitous day's work, in which he took such a prominent role, he went to his grave, stricken to death by one of the companions, who had also taken such an active part in the treacherous slaughter of peaceable and honest citizens, gathered together to exercise the sacred right of suffrage under command and shelter of the law.

GENERAL SARMIENTO ON THE "GALLEGOS."

As Mr. Sarmiento has on former occasions expressed his opinion of Irishmen, Dutchmen, Germans and Gauls, the following pithy letter, to the editor of the Libertad, in which the veteran "luchador" reveals what he thinks of Spaniards, Italians and his own countrymen, will be read with great interest:—

To the Editor of the Libertad.

Thanks for your kindness in sending me all that Mr. Santiago del Rio has written, and which you have already in type for publication. However, you will do me the favour not to publish it, if only to show that private conversations should not be published.

A young fellow, or somebody, sent me a lot of newspapers, that I might post myself up in the matter, adding that he would call on me on Sunday to talk the subject over. He came on that day, and when he asked me what I thought of his polemic with the Spanish papers, I told him that I had not read a word of it, nor did I want to know anything about it, as I had quite enough to do to attend to my own affairs. However, he pressed me for my opinion on what he had written, and I told him that I had no intention of expressing any opinion on what I considered to be a hasty squabble, or of taking part in a question that had been already used up, and which was an eternal one with the Spaniards, about their autonomy in America, etc; the whole affair reducing itself to the fact that the Spanish journalists here affect to consider themselves superior beings. Nobody, therefore, had any right to publish in the papers all that I said to him on this head, while giving him German statistical data of the most authentic kind to prove his case, and also offering him figures of my own about other things, and which were of no use to me. (Fortunately I did not send them to him.)

It is not true that I told him that the greatest modern thinkers consider the Spanish Race to be in a state of decadence. I told him something still worse, and which I have written over and over again, viz., that it is a race in a state of mental atrophy, from which it is impossible to hope for any improvement whatever.

The Spanish papers here are a proof of this, their tone being even more silly and insolent than that of our own newspapers; but, when I speak of the Spanish Race, I include our own as the principal part of it. Glance at the Census of the province of Buenos Aires and you will find ample proofs of our decadence: Fewer marriages amongst Argentines; fewer children of these marriages; less industry; decreased deposits in the banks, etc, etc. etc.

"Ah!" say the Spaniards—"Say what you like of those American Spaniards (a foreign Minister had once the insolence to call us those natives!)" but when European Spaniards are in question. . . . !

There is a book known to the world at large called "Civilization and Barbarism," and it does not refer to the barbarians of Spain, which sends us so many of them (go to the Mole and see them landing) but to the "Criollitos," now thoroughly acclimatized. Is it any wonder that the sons take after the fathers?

It is, therefore, not a question of barbarism and civilization between the natives of the Peninsula and their American relatives: They are both cut from the same cloth. A lady, whose attention was called to the beauty of some provincial girls, said that she greatly admired the tact displayed in sending only the ugliest of them to Buenos Aires. The same thing happens to us in the case of Spanish writers. With the exception of Albistur, Cominges and a few others, they would not make even good house-painters.

I will give the educated Spaniards here a sample of the lengths to which their countrymen are urged by the intimidation of their furious penny-a-liners: When the President of the Society for Preventing Cruelty to Animals went lately to Rosario, he took six letters of introduction to as many respectable Spanish traders there; the writer of all being a Spaniard also, and a friend of his. He delivered the letters, and not one of those six respectable Spaniards, in a good position, even called on him or offered him their respects, as they should have done, and as has always been done with him everywhere else—in fact, what well-bred men owe to each other all the world over. Sr. Casado, a Spaniard, to whom he had no letter of introduction whatever, showed him, nevertheless, the kindest attentions of every kind. Those six think, because they have become rich in America, that they have the right to treat the most distinguished men with the same want of courtesy displayed by their scribblers in the Press, who are mere hucksters in letters, as they themselves were hucksters when they began life. Just read what the Spanish papers have published, without the slightest provocation, of one who has been President of the Republic, and is known as a man of Letters both in Europe and America. The kind Spaniard who gave him the letters of introduction will know through this letter how his friends acted.

It is not a question between Europeans Gallegos and our own Gallegos. Some of them may possibly know how to behave themselves, although they may not be models. The race is between Italians and Spaniards, here and over the sea, and Mr. De Amicis is already getting his deserts at their hands. However, I wash mine of the whole affair, and, to confirm this declaration of strict neutrality, I copy from my note-book the following story told me while I was in Rosario, by a literary man, an Italian:—

"One day Rossini was walking in Paris with the Spanish Ambassador, a very aristocratic person, when they met an old Spaniard, dressed in tatters; nevertheless, Rossini addressed him in the most respectful way. On leaving him the Ambassador asked the great 'maestro' who his ragged friend was, and whether, in spite of his poverty, he was not perhaps distinguished for some high moral qualities? 'Not at all,' said Rossini, 'the poor devil has no qualities at all, good or bad; but I make it a point to treat every Spaniard with the utmost civility. I do it out of pure gratitude, as, but for Spain, Italy would be the last nation in Europe!"

The Gallegos who come to America, instead of insulting and abusing us, as they do from morning till night, ought to take a leaf from Rossini's book and laud us to the skies, as we, Spanish Americans, prevent Spain from being the last of all the nations of the civilized world. We are still ten times greater barbarians than they are, as proved by the statist, Sarmiento, who knows more than all the humam flotsam the sea casts on these shores.

Therefore, let them not pester me with these vexed questions. We all require to learn something, and not to glorify bull-fighting by renewing it in America, or degrade the honourable position won by honest toil with the dirty ruffianism and slang of the "pulperia."

Yours sincerely,
Sarmiento.

PARIS LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Paris, December 8th

Nearly all the political evils of French government arise from the governing classes not having the courage to tell the people disagreeable truths, and to avoid flattering their vanity. This would accustom the French to the fact, of which they are inwardly conscious, that there are other peoples just as good, at least, as themselves, and who at the same time care very little about them. Deputy Amagat cannot be too highly praised for his timely pamphlet on "The Perils of Colonization." His republicanism cannot be called in question and his independence never was doubted.

M. Amagat lays down, that France in her craze for new territory cannot found colonies. She cannot rival England, and has to choose between irritating that nation's interests, or becoming her colonial subaltern. The rôle of France is, he asserts, to maintain a first-class position in Europe; this she cannot do if she fritters away her resources in foreign expeditions. M. Amagat does not consider the Republic to have accomplished all it might have done since 1871; it has sacrificed individualism to cosmopolitanism, and patriotism to universal fraternity. It has weakened the military spirit of the nation, by false notions about peace and philanthropy. It has secured no allies for France, and he desires to know where are her friends now? He ironically asks M. Ferry in what strata of the population he expects to find emigrants, "pioneers of civilization," for his brand new colonies, having failed to obtain them for those that exist.

The anarchists still keep going about like stormy petrels. They have a weakness for organizing open air "réunions," but the authorities have arrested the leaders of such gatherings. A Hyde Park or a Camp meeting might degenerate into revolution, and that is a kind of occupation at which, in France, the play could not be counted upon. These leaders of the blind only trade upon the but too real suffering which exists in the country. In themselves there is nothing dangerous. But the sheep?

Respecting Tonkin, the French would be delighted to get out of that mess in any honorable manner. Time, and the chapter of accidents, will duly bring the solution. Had ministers been as wise now as at the commencement, they would never have made a descent on the Red River. It will prove a heavy blow and great discouragement to the doctrine of "protectorates." The Australians will not incur much opposition by throwing the Aegis of the Southern Cross over the Polynesian archipelago. They have only to make things pleasant with the King of the Sandwich Islands. France would have no objection to cede not only her rights in the New Hebrides, but would throw New Caledonia into the bargain.

"For wheresoever the carcase is there will the eagles be gathered together." The prevailing crisis in trade and commerce has engendered swarms of usurers, who disguise themselves under the name of bankers. Real bankers are very eclectic in the paper they now discount; where they gave hitherto accommodation for 90 days, they now limit the period to 30. Small tradesmen have no chance; they simply must go under if they cannot weather the storm. The Chauviniste press attributes the stagnation in affairs to the importation of German, Austrian and English goods. As the Chinese would say, 'the foreign devils,' are the cause of the mischief. France is not passing through so much a crisis, as undergoing an evolution, where her productions, if they are to, must compete, in point of price, with those of the foreigner. This implies the relinquishment on the part of employers, of a portion of their fat profits; on the part of the workmen—all overpaid, acceptance of smaller salaries; and of the State, economy in the administration of the country; no unproductive expenditure either, in the shape of berths for the Barnacle tribe, useless public works, and dangerous pathfindings in Tonkins, and elsewhere. All manufactures of France are handicapped by 33 per cent of home taxation higher than those of Germany.

But, "revenons a nos moutons." The "usuriers" in France are of different varieties; the real Ebrew Jew being in the minority. The gentiles eclipse him. The provincial usurer is generally a man who in his lawful calling has saved some 50,000 fr. and has retired from business. He is cheerful, dapper, and venerable looking, and sympathises with fast young persons, whom he invites to walk into, not his parlor, but a corner of his favorite cafe. He is an "habitué" of cafes; it is there that he finds his quarry, and can keep a steady eye on his victims. Perhaps the happiest moment of a young man's life, after that of definitely quitting school, is that when, frightened by his first debt of a few hundred francs, he obtains the means to extricate himself, by accepting his first accommodation bill. He is astonished at the facility by which the wind can be raised, and thinks the world is very cruel for its judgments on money lenders.

The bait has been taken; the second bill is renewed as a matter of course, after a platonic refusal. But it has been augmented by additions. The other renewals enlarge like the rolled snow ball. In time the young borrower feels the pinch; has a dim vision of being driven corner-wards; but he has youthfulness on his side, has then hope, and subscribes to Mark Tapley's sentiments and the something turning up. If he could only at this stage confess his position to his family, the evil might be remedied by a stich in time; but he sinks deeper and deeper, till the usurer considers the pigeon plucked, applies for a settlement, and then writes to the family demanding payment or exposure at a trial and a legal execution. And with that settling day, the career of the young borrower is almost generally closed. He emigrates, becomes an adventurer, and to live, has to accept offices that at home even his father's servants would have refused. Educated for society and perhaps the governing classes, he precipitates himself into the dregs.

At Paris the road to ruin is constructed on the same lines, but the decoration, the baits, and the incidents by the way are more varied. There is the larger class who advertise as "bankers," a profession that can be run for six months, till the inland officer invites you to produce your licence. These bankers are ex-notaries, ex-officials, all ex-honorable men. Occasionally they can hook in their toils an ex-prefect, but a lame duck not the less; or a retired army officer, honest but a simpleton, but who has the red-ribbon of the legion of honor at his buttonhole, and that represents twenty-five per cent of the, not un-paid up, but totally absent, capital. The office is ever a two-pair back, dingy in aspect, old curtains to keep out the most dreaded enemy, light. The director's room is on the contrary showily furnished, and has an enormous iron safe; hired by the month, and on condition, never to be opened; of late these are made in imitation, and as real looking as a chess-board volume.

THE GLORIOUS SUNSETS.

Mr. Norman Lockyer brings the light of science this morning to bear on the atmospheric phenomena which have lately been surprising and delighting Europe. Sunrises and sunsets are the most exquisite spectacles which nature affords. The colours which accompany them are enchanting everywhere. They are not less glorious in Hyde Park than on the crest of a Swiss mountain. But commonly they have been left to poets to dilate on and glorify. Imagination is captivated by them, and lends them hues of its own. Nothing seems more fleeting and visionary and immaterial. When they embody any substance it has been regarded as peculiarly local. Against London smoke is set the lurid splendour it adds to the tints of a London sunset. Mr. Lockyer teaches that science has as close concern with these prismatic marvels as fancy. He bids the lovely apparitions render an account of their birth and composition. Though they remain as brilliant and beautiful as ever, they are seen by his analysis to want food like other splendid creatures. Marine anemones, which are as delicate as a rose, require to be nourished on raw meat. The ethereal pomps of the last fortnight or more are reported to have derived their wondrous complexion from a plentiful diet of pumice-stones. By the hypothesis they are brought down from their height of impalpable purity to acknowledge that they are earthy like the rest of us. In return science invests them with a dignity of strangeness and distance to which they never before presumed to aspire. The foundations of the globe have been poured into the air for the admiration of Londoners. According to the view now set forth the crowds that gazed on a sight in the heavens which Turner himself would not have dared to portray were assisting at a celebration of the obsequies of the Isle of Krakatoa. Aloft in the skies were its ashes. The sun was escorting them with an illumination of the most bewitching funeral torches to their final resting-place in the northern ocean.

It is an amazing story which Dr. Meldrum, watching sunsets in the Indian seas, sketched in outline, and Mr. Lockyer has elaborated, on this basis. An atmosphere at least forty miles deep clothes the earth. An aqueous vapour in great part composes it, and forms the reflecting medium. Generally the sunset tints are due to that aqueous vapour, which vibrates under the sun's rays. According to the density of the vapour, as it absorbs or intercepts one colour or another, the light it reflects is white, blue, violet, or red. Ordinarily it would have been inferred from the surpassing lustre of the sunrises and sunsets during the last two or three weeks that for some reason the band of aqueous vapour had thickened. Had the facts answered, they would have explained the result. The atmoshpere has been submitted to the thumb-screw of the spectroscope, and negatives the theory altogether. In the period in question the dry air band is pronounced to have enlarged at the expense of the watery. Recent vivid greens and crimsons must have traversed an extra length of dry instead of aqueous vapour. Had meteorological science and the spectroscope existed in old days, when there was neither steam nor the telegraph, inquirers must have paused in utter perplexity in the presence of these contradictory conclusions. Now the accelerated facilities for the transmission of news have accumulated in the briefest interval a mass of evidence which indicates a way out of the scientific dilemma. Meteorologists have been enabled to track Krakatoa in solution from its original site in the Straits of Sunda to the skies above Java, to Madras, and other points in Southern India, to the Seychelles and Mauritius, to the Cape and the Gold Coast, to Brazil, Venezuela, and Trinidad. Over Java there was a pall of black night on that terrible 28th of August. Madras was confounded by a bright green sun at sunrise and sunset from the 8th to the 14th September. In the Seychelles and Brazil at the end of August and beginning of September the sun had been as pale as the moon. Three months later, about the period at which, with the prevailing currents of the upper air, and in the anticipated direction, matter floating in the atmosphere would be due in Europe, European skies have been visited with a succession of gorgeous sunrises and sunsets. Dr. Meldrum's and Mr. Lockyer's view is at any rate in agreement with the circumstances, and has the merit of accounting for them. It is that the exploded fragments of Krakatoa and its volcanic roots have been dyeing European skies as they shrouded Java. Gradually the veil has become thinner and feebler. It has ceased to have power to hide the sun, or turn its face pale and silver. No longer do the sunbeams reach the earth blue and green and red as in Ceylon and Trinidad. Yet the dust of the dead mountains and crater has been here as real as at the instant of its fiery ejection, if less solid and deep. Though it could not subjugate the sun in its strength, it has had force to prolong its setting and to determine the tone of the after-glow.

Poetry will scarcely complain of science for its habit of weighing the sun and dissecting the rainbow when it introduces the mind thus to the secret workings of the laboratory of Nature. Nature has often been drawn smiling as she overthrows human hopes and hurries mortals to premature death. Never has her supposed combination of serene remorselessness and artistic sensibility been exhibited by a moralizing poet or novelist more graphically than in the scene in which science shows her wrecking islands and painting the skies imperial purples with pigments concocted from the awful ruin. The actual moral which science would deduce for itself from the new hypothesis of the construction of the glow of dawn and evening is in itself no less poetical than philosophically suggestive. Like every fresh stage reached in science, it serves to confirm the truth of the connexion of the universe in all its parts and all its operations. The world is one; and its laws and its constituents affect and supplement and balance one another. Within the last dozen years the earth seems to have been passing through an epoch of volcanic perturbation such as strained human fears beyond all bearing eighteen hundred years ago. Modern science does not disguise the weight of modern physical calamities. In a manner it reduplicates the force of the blow by depicting it rolling backwards and forwards, and reverberating from pole to pole. With all this it must be admitted to take away half the terrors of such disasters by reducing them within the compass of intellectual calculation, and tending to bring them under the yoke of one common law. Men who quake at the shadow of an affliction imagined to be the work of chance will suffer with resignation thrice the misfortunes so long as they can account for them.—Times.

EFFECT OF WINDS ON MEN.

A LA "FRESCO."

Extract from the "Youths' Companion" of Dec. 14th, 1882, Boston:—

"The wind is east," the students of Princeton Theological Seminary would say to each other, some mornings as they filed out of Dr. Archibald Alexander's lecture-room. The noble old man knew that he was sensitive to climatic changes.

"How is your health now, sir?" asked a former pupil while calling on him, after a twenty years' absence.

"Well, the wind is sometimes in the east," answered the doctor, with a merry twinkle in his eye.

Atmospherical changes do have a great influence on spirit and flesh. No one is at his best when blown upon by the simoon of, Africa or the sirocco of Sicily, or the "viento norte" (north wind) of Buenos Ayres. During the prevalence of "viento norte" crime is an epidemic in Buenos Ayres, and its prison is filled with criminals. Some of them assert that they are not responsible for what they do as long as this wind lasts.

Even good citizens shut themselves up in their houses until it has blown itself out. Those who are forced to be out of doors go about with split beans on their temples, to relieve the headache it causes. Strange to say, the wind is popularly believed to derive its demoralizing effects from passing over the perfumed forests of Brazil.

Perhaps, however, the lax system of punishing criminals is as effective in encouraging crime as the "viento norte." Before the new Penitentiary was built, the prison was so small that the Alcalde sometimes let out prisoners on parole.

One day a judge recognised in the street a certain money-changer, who a few weeks before he had sentenced to prison for a term of years, for counterfeiting bank notes. Calling a policeman to arrest the criminal, he was surprised to learn that the man was actually serving out his sentence. The Alcalde had given him permission to attend at his office every day during certain hours.

An anecdote, related by an English lady, illustrates the insecurity of life in Buenos Ayres and its lax administration of the laws.

An English physician returning home on horseback, late one night, heard a cry and saw a man on the ground and another bending over him. He galloped up, and drawing his revolver fired at the assailant, whom he judged to be a robber. The fellow escaped, and the doctor, dismounting, found the prostrate man dead. Instead of notifying the police—it is the custom in that city to put in prison anybody who knows anything about the matter until the real criminal is found out—the physician rode home.

Within an hour a wounded man presented himself to have a bullet extracted from his shoulder, saying he had been shot by a highwayman. The doctor's first impulse was to send for the police. But knowing that the assassin would be released, after a slight punishment, and would murder him, he extracted the bullet and sent the man away.

Whether the north or the south wind blows in Buenos Ayres, the period before an election for Governor or President is always filled up with robbery and bloodshed.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

We give particulars of the horrid homicide in Montevideo on Wednesday in another column. There seems no doubt as to the victim having been the agressor; but it is something truly "chocante" to see a Colonel in the army carrying a knife, like the humblest "gaucho." The most singular part of the affair is that the imprisoned officer is "muy visitado." There must be something in this sad business that has not yet come out.

General Sarmiento's letter about Gallegos and Ligurians is the talk of the town. The veteran has now had a round with almost every nationality under the sun, except the Hottentots or the South Sea Islanders. We have translated his letter in another column.

Mr. Latham's company had a very poor house on Wednesday night at the "Nacional;" although the "Cricket on the Hearth" was excellently played by all the actors, who were accorded frequent and loud applause. "Whitebait" was inimitably acted, and kept the house in roars. We hope to see a full house to-night. Mr. Latham certainly deserves better from our public than "a beggarly account of empty benches."

Three Standards were returned to us yesterday by the G.P.O. One of them is addressed "U. S. Legation," but in what quarter of the globe is not written. The other two have no address at all. They were not posted from our office; so we suppose some subscriber, in the deuce of a hurry, flung them into the box without addressing them. He can have them by calling on us.

The prizes won at the Continental Exhibition are to be at last distributed. The Minister has given orders to have the medals struck off. Better late than never.

There was a row in a grog-shop in Calle Cangallo on Wednesday. Nothing very new in that, but the way in which the fight was brought to an end was novel. A mutual friend of the combatants, named John Ross, or Juan Rossi—it matters not—seized two big tumblers and smashed them simultaneously on the heads of the rivals. Down they rolled, bathed in blood. When John was arrested, he said that he did not wish to see old friends continue a fight about trifles, and he considered that his method was the best for putting an end to such misunderstandings. John is a bit of a wag.

Two of the five comets announced by Dr. Gould three weeks ago have been seen at Rio Grande. The telegrams say they are fine samples of celestial vagabonds.

The National Minister of Finance, Dr. Plaza, has been named an honorary member of the Army and Navy Club.

The French ships that Nelson sent to the bottom, in the glorious fight in Aboukir Bay, are now being raised. The divers have already found five of them.

The Porvenir of Bahia Blanca makes the following rather queer announcement:—"All the buoys have now been replaced in their proper position, until their chains are cut again!" This implies a very serious charge against some person or persons unknown, or at least unnamed. The public here were under the impression that the chains of the buoys had given way accidentally.

We received some Mendoza papers yesterday, but all the news in them would fit on the head of a pin, and still leave room for an "expanded" "ultima hora."

The Rosario police had a mild bout with the "attorantes" there the other night. The vagabonds got wind of the trap laid for them. They first showed fight, led by a hoary ruffian with a big white-thorn stick, but subsequently ran away, dashed through the river near the bank, and escaped, all but eight or them.

The Industrial Club has now a "protectionist" idea on hands which we applaud with both hands and feet, although we are and always will be Free Traders. It is to establish an Asylum for Homeless Boys, and Messrs Negrotto, Lamas and Jurrobaso have been named as a Committee to work the thing up. We wish them the very best success. No city in the world has, for its size, more unfortunate "gamins" going straight to moral destruction than Buenos Aires.

Any particulars regarding the whereabouts of Mr Tomkins, who is residing here at present, would be gratefully received by his wife at present in Montevideo, or at this office.

The inauguration of the Electric Light at La Plata will take place next Saturday, at dark.

We have received a communication about somebody having cut off his whiskers and moustache for the benefit of a Hospital, but it is so badly written we can make neither head nor tail of it.

The National Bank began the issue of its new small notes yesterday. Hurrah!

Eighteen new waggons yesterday placed for public service on the Western Railway. This company is not going to lose its name of being the best managed railway in the province for nothing. Soon this number will be doubled, and then we shall not have so many complaints from sheepfarmers and produce growers. Indeed what is most wanting is proper accommodation at the Once; and until we have a proper terminus in proportion to the line's growth it will be ridiculous on the directors' part to imagine their work finished.

Dr. Lisandro Sigovia is the probable candidate for the Secretaryship of the Supreme Court. The Doctor is already a notable writer on jurisprudence and civil law. We wish him every success.

Messrs. Martinez, Alonso and Co. have offered to farm the tolls on the General Brown road, paying the Municipality 1000 m/n per month, and guaranteeing to keep the way in good order.

The Provincial police, horse and foot, move out to the new capital on Saturday. On Monday they commence their duties there, which will scarcely be multifarious, and we imagine that their most trying work now will be to keep awake. There is nothing harder.

Another "choque" on the Southern Railway. A cart on the line, loading from the barque Dains, was caught by a locomotive from the 3 Esquinas and made smithereens of. The carter escaped with a whole skin.

The Chamber of Deputies of the Province are the most reluctant body in the world to depart from an old custom. It is always a case of "no quorum," and will be except when the salaries have to be voted. On this solemn occasion the house to a man turn up.

We hope, for the sake of the flag, that the analysis about to be practised on samples of wine served to the fleet will result satisfactorily.

The Christmas-box voted to the Municipal employees by the Deliberative Council has been ordered to be paid by the Lord Mayor.

The Latham Company will play to-night a comedy drama which must be familiar to our readers as the very successful production that took London by storm some years ago at the Prince of Wales' theatre. We hear great things of the piece, which is said to give great scope for refined high class acting of the modern school.

Talk of "Horrible London!" One of the Inspectors yesterday came across three rooms, in which thirty people, men, women and children were packed. The inmates live by collecting bones and rags from the "vasura's" boxes. Amongst them were two hunchbacks, and several dwarfs; and the sickly children were running about stark naked? Horrible Buenos Aires!! It seems incredible that we have reached this truly awful stage of misery aad degradation in the capital of the Republic.

The President of the "Zoophiles," General Sarmiento, caught a brutal carman ill-treating his horse in Calle Rivadavia on Wednesday, and had him at once arrested. Four national dollars was the fine. We greatly fear that the poor horse must have fared badly when he got to his stable at night.

The coiners are at work in Rosario, where false 50 cent. pieces are in circulation. The Custom House got "stuck" with a lot of them.

Telegrams from Panama announce that the Masonic Temple in New York has been burned to the ground. Loss 2 millions dollars.

The daughter of a Texas cattle king has just returned from Paris, where she says she walked through the "Tooraloora," and visited a shottoe where she saw the statues of Physic and Catherine de Medicine.

DOOR MATS.

Il est plus aisé de prévenir une maladie, que de la guérir.

Dear Editor

I notice in yesterday's Standard that a case of Cholera Morbus has appeared in Pernambuco, and that yellow fever is on the increase in Rio de Janeiro.

I think it therefore high time that "Barker's Carbolic Disinfecting Door Mat" should be introduced in a country like this, where those epidemic diseases are generally imported.

As you are aware, most of the diseases are spread by the agency of door mats; a person who has visited the house where there is disease, gets it on his boots, leather being porous, it naturally becomes saturated. Now every person who uses the "Carbolic" mat, must get some of the stuff on his boots, and he spreads it over every other door mat that he wipes them on.

The stench of these Carbolic Mats is simply fearful, and almost prevents you from breathing; this can be avoided by using a "nose guard" which might be filled with a substance which completely neutralizes the smell; and considering that the neutralizing substance evaporates too quickly, every person who has a "Carbolic Door-mat and Nose-guarder" should also be possessed of at least two bottles of "neutralizer" to be carried one in each pocket of his coat.

The only disadvantage of carrying these bottles is, that the "neutralizer" is explosive, and if the person should happen to sit down on a bottle of it in his coat tail pocket, it might suddenly blow him through the ceiling, but even this can be remedied by every such person paying an annual fee to the New York Life Insurance Company, so that it really matters very little whether he is blown up or not.

Would not you try the experiment?

Yours truly,

B.

FABRICATED OYSTERS IN FRANCE

Eggs in America, we have learned, are in the present age of progress no longer always eggs which a conscientious hen would swear to as the genuine article. Are oysters to be no longer oysters? The question is suggested after reading a paragraph in a Bordeaux paper, which reveals the fact that the much-esteemed oyster has a fabricated competitor in the market so dangerously like the real article that deception may be easily practised on the public. The difficulty, hitherto found insurmountable, of making oysters has been how to cause the spurious substance to adhere to the shell. To imitate the flesh of the oyster is, we are informed, relatively easy for those initiated in the mysterious process, the colour being obtained by a solution of copper. But to attach the cleverly simulated oyster to the shell puzzled the most ingenious for a long time, and the problem has only recently been solved by some one who has composed, with infinite pains, a sort of glue, or gum, which adheres to the moist substance representing the fish and to the shell, assuming all the appearance of the genuine cartilage. Young girls are employed in the delicate operation of what specialists term "soldering" these oysters, which are "passed off upon the public in Paris in considerable quantities." If our faith is to be shaken in eggs and oysters, as well as in coffee, butter, wine, and a variety of other things, what, it may be asked, will there be by-and-bye to believe in?

Cedulas A	101
Cedulas E	88¼
Cedulas F	85½
National Bank Shares....	129½
National Bonds 1881	74½

There was a very strong reaction in the market to-day, chiefly in Nat. Bank Shares, but Cedulas also grew firmer, and prices improved on yesterday's. One sale af National Bonds, 1881, at 74½ marked.
In Cedulas there was one sale of 1,000 Series F at 85½, and in Series E some few transactions opening and closing at 88¼. For the end of the month 30,000 sold, which is a very small day's business, at 88½, and for February 115,000 sold at 88¼.
All the speculation in the market seems to have touched bottom yesterday at 126½. The sales in this stock to-day were very large, prices for cash opened at 129 and closed at 129¾, sold 350 shares. For the end of the month 5,900 sold, opening at 128½, rising to 129, dropping to 128¾, then jumping up to 129½ and closing at 129¾. For February only one share sold at 130½; the speculation for that date has not yet begun. Total sales, 6,450 shares.
Mr. J. B. Gahan, who has arrived out in the Tagus, was enveloped in friends; he reports great interest taken by wealthy River Plate men abroad in R. Plate lands. The credit of the R. Plate in London and Paris is rising daily and large sums of money are coming out of the R. Plate for investment in estancia lands.
The market opened to-day with a boom, and nearly all the sellers of yesterday were buyers to-day. Owing to the great ability with which the king and his friends directed the present speculation, there has been a movement within these last few days in the Share market which we have not seen since 1882, and it is probable that this great speculative movement would have continued until the 15th or 20th of this month; but for a wealthy outsider who yesterday afternoon caught the market at 126½, and took off some 5,000 shares to the amazement and consternation of all those who have been selling short. The novelty in the Share market to-day was that the control of the market had passed from the hands of those who created the present fall. New men now hold the strings, and the empire is divided. The impression is that this division of authority will lead to a push on the part of both cliques to secure the shares, and hence it is that all the small fry on 'Change were to-day covering as fast as they could and even at a loss, buying back Shares before prices advanced any further. As the speculation for February has hardly yet begun we have yet to see its effects, but as the dividend is payable on March 1st, we may look forward to a still higher speculation for February than even for the present month.
The sale of 3,000 squares of camp at the well-known estancia Sajones, came off to-day at Mr. Bullrich's. The attendance was limited but very select. Mr. Bullrich put up 10 lots with option to one or more of the fellowing lots: 7, 12, 10 and 14, or to the whole including besides these the lots 8, 9 and 13. The bidding was not very animated, and the hammer eventually came down on the bid of $1,025 ⅌ per square, made by Don Juan Cobos who declared that he took the whole of the lots he had an option to, viz: 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14. The total area of these lots is one league and 200 squares. Mr. Bullrich announced before bringing down the hammer that he would not put up any of the remaining lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 unless at the upset price of $1,200 ⅌ per square, but although there were several parties interested in buying nobody came forward, and the auction was therefore closed. We understand that two lots marked on the maps as "vendidos" were sold not long ago at $1,500 ⅌ the square.
The sales at the ring during official hours were:—
Cedulas—
For cash F 7,000 at 88¼
For Jan. 12th E 5,000 at 88½
For Jan. 31st E 30,000 at 88½
For Feb. 29th E 115,000 at 88½-87½-88¼
For cash F 1,000 at 88½
Sales, 158,000.
National Bank Shares—
For cash 350 at 129-128¾
For Jan. 31st 5,900 at 128¾-129-129-129-128¾ to 129-½-½-¾-¾-¾-¾
For Feb. 29th 200 at 130¾
Sales, 6,550
National Bonds, 1881, 5 o/o—
For cash 1,000 at 74½
Mr. Langworthy, who has arrived back from the Gran Chaco, was welcomed on 'Change.
The Estrella Insurance Company held its regular meeting of shareholders to-day, and report being read, a dividend of 16 per cent was declared. We must compliment Mr. Moreno on this splendid result; and we think National Insurance Companies now rank, as dividend-paying companies, with those of England and other countries.
In the South Market very little done in wool to-day, but in the North Market an active business.
The great news on 'Change was the sale of Mr. Luro's fine wool, some 35,000 @. A leading German, buyer. Price reserved.
Messrs. J. P. Boyd and Co. have concluded a very important coal contract with the Riachuelo Port Commission—the supply of coal for the whole year.
The Miskelyne leaves on the 13th, but will remain in Montevideo till the 16th inst., and letters must be posted on Monday night.
At afternoon there was not a very large business done. Some 200 shares bought for February at

El Miercoles 16 de Enero 1884
A las 2 p.m.

Remataremos a la mas alta postura y condiciones que se estipularan mas abajo, por orden terminante de su propietario, 65,000 hectareas de campos ubicados en la Seccion 2ª de Territorios Nacionales.

Los numeros que se ofrecen en venta son el 3, 4, 7, y 8 de la letra B, la mitad Sud del numero 23 y el numero 24 de la letra D, todos de la seccion segunda y el numero 3 de la letra A, seccion tercera Territorio Nacional.

Sos lotes 3, 4, 7 y 8 forman un cuadrado perfecto de 16 leguas, situado ventajosamente a diez leguas al Oeste de Trenque-Lauquen.

Por el telegrafo hace tiempo que nos hallamos en comunicacion diaria con este punto de creciente importancia.

La diligencia de Vallee cruza estos campos en su trayecto lejano al pueblo Victorica que se halla 35 leguas mas afuera.

Faltaba solo la locomotora para trasportarnos en dos dias de la capital de la nacion a la civilizacion naciente pero vigorosa de la frontera.

Felizmente esto se ha conseguido.

Los trabajos del ferro-carril del Oeste se han dividido en tres secciones.

La primera al 9 de Julio se ha abierta ya al servicio publico.

La segunda que va a Las Mellizas ya se ha empezado, y una vez terminado esto se emprenderan los trabojos de la tercera seccion que nos llevara a Trenque-Lauquen.

Dentro de dos años podemos pues, asegurar que estos campos estaran cuando mas a 48 horas de la ciudad de Buenos Aires.

Este solo hecho triplicara el valor de todas las tierras en esa direccion.

En cuanto a la calidad de la tierra de este lote de 16 leguas, nos referiremos a los informes oficiales del agrimensor Sr Maqueda quien los mensuro y amojono.

Dice el—"La calidad de estos campos es buena, siendo abundante en sus aguadas y pastos tiernos.

Hay tambien tres bosques de consideracion, de algarrobo y caldén, cuya utilidad y riqueza es indisputable.

En toda la estension del campo hay 14 lagunas casi todas ellas de caracter permanente. Una de ellas de agua dulce mide 700 metros de largo por 400 metros de ancho con un buen monte a su alrededor.

Hay varios cañadones con pastos tiernos para ovejas.

Fuera de estas importantisimas aguadas dulces hay varios ojos de agua y jagüeles indios.

Los linderos son los Sres Unzue, Del Carril, Drysdale, Irigoyen y otros de igual importancia.

El lote de 10 leguas se haya igualmente bien situado.

Se compone de los numeros 3, letra A. de la seccion tercera la mitad Sud del numero 23 y el numero 24 de la letra D, seccion segunda territorio nacional.

A 4 leguas solamente del gran Establecimiento poblado del Señor Anchorena y a corta distancia de la estancia alambrada de D Saturnino Unzue, y sobre el camino precisamente que pasa de Guamini, Carhué a General Acha, se halla en contacto diario con los establecimientos mas importantes alrededor de Bahia Blanca.

Su proximidad relativa a este gran puerto y el hecho importante de estar sobre la via que pasara de Bahia Blanca a Mercedes, lo coloca en una position muy ventajosa para el poblador que prefiere una buena vecindad a la seguridad problematica de los campos mas lejanos.

Sobre la bondad de estos campos hablaran los agrimensores Maqueda y Diffon, de cuyos informes oficiales extractamos lo siguiente:—

Linea Norte—Se encuentran testigos de haber sido una gran tolderia de indios, campo ondulado, alto y descubierto, hay un buen monte de Chañares y Caldenes.

Linea Oeste—Campo accidentado abundando la gramilla en los montes.

Linea Este—Montes de caldenes, terreno poco accidentado con lagunas.

Linea Sud—Hay montes, cañadas de agua dulce, y muchos caminos indios.

Abundan los pastos puna dulce, trevol, gramilla colorada cerca del angulo S O hay vestigios de Tolderias de indios donde convergen los distintos caminos cruzados por las lineas. Hay gran cantidad de jagüeles de agua dulce. Este punto es conocido por el nombre de "Ranquilco."

Por folletos y planos de estos campos, ocurrir a nuestra casa, Alsina 78.

Venderemos a la mas alta postura y a los plazos arriba indicados 32 leguas de espendido campo, ya celebre por sus ricos pastos tiernos, sus abundantes aguadas y la fertilidad de sus tierras.

Los numeros en venta son el 11, 19, 20, 21 y 22 de la letra A, y el 1, 2 y 9 de la letra D, Seccion 8, Territorio Nacional.

Todavia existen alli los vestigios de las Tolderias de los Ranqueles, sus rancherias, sus corrales y sus jagüeles de riquisima agua.

Estos campos y los inmediatos a la Ciudad de Buenos Aires, son los verdaderos

Campos de pasto tierno

Los primeros por haber estado en el poder tranquilo de los Indios por mas de un siglo, y los otros por haber sido ocupados por los cristianos.

Los campos de pastos duros son los de la zona intermediaria, donde ni el indio ni el cristiano se aventuraban a permanecer por temerse mutuamente.

Solo asi puede racionalmente esplicarse el hecho notable de que en la seccion octava se encuentren a pocos pasos iguales a los campos de adentro que valen hoy pesos 3,000,000 la legua.

El informe del agrimensor Alsina sobre estos campos dice textualmente asi:

"Estos campos que fueron ocupados por los indios Ranqueles se encuentran respecto de calidad y cantidad de pastos, montes, piso, etc, en identicas condiciones que los campos de Leubuco y Poitague, cuya superioridad es publicamente conocida."

"Dice el agrimensor Pico que los arboles de esta region son inmensos, entre ellos los hay que miden cuatro y media varas de circunferencia en su tronco principal abarcando con sus ramas un diametro termino medio de 3 varas."

Apesar que algunos colocan el Pueblo Victorica, ya um poblacion de 1500 almas, en el lote 23, los propietarios de estos campos tienen datos particulares de personas de esa localidad que les permiten declarar que se encuentran en el 22 el lote lindero, o sea en el corazon de estos campos.

Fuera de una infinidad de jagueles de agua riquisima el campo tiene las lagunas siguientes—Poitague, Aucamachué, Lui Carreta, Tirlin, Utra Trigoin, Echoué, Quillai Lauquen, Quitripil, Antiqueo, Guada y varias otras de lluvia sin nombre.

Por planos y folletos ocurrir a nuestra casa, Alsina 78.

Las condiciones de pago son ¼ parte al contado, y el resto a una y dos años de plazo sin interes y con pagares hipotecarios.

Las tierras que se ofrecen en venta, se encuentran ubicadas en la Provincia de Santiago del Estero sobre el deslinde con la de Santa Fe.

Su situacion es inmejorable y dificilmente podria ofrecerse a la venta una estension de tierra que reuna las condiciones de las que a rematarse. Estan situadas al norte de la Provincia de Santa Fe y a cuatro o diez leguas de las florecientes colonias de esta Provincia y a muy poca distancia de los importantes establecimientos de los Srs. Ramayon y Escalada, Lezama y otros.

Dentro de muy breve tiempo las colonias invadiran estos campos que por su feracidad y situacion se prestan cual ningunos otros a la agricultura.

La calidad de estas tierras es excelente. Estan cubiertas de una capa de tierra vegetal de sesenta a ochenta centimetros y en algunas partes el espesor de estas capas pasa de un metro. Las aguas subterraneas se encuentran a cuatro, cinco y seis metros de profundidad, y en todos los jagueles que se han hecho hasta ahora en esta region, se ha encontrado agua dulce. Abundan ademas las aguas superficiales en pequeños arroyos y lagunas.

Estos campos son parte de los comprados ahora muchos años por D. Adolfo E. Carranza al Gobierno de Santiago del Estero y cuya mensura y plano fueron levantados en los años 1859 y 1860 por el ex-Ingeniero Nacional D. Juan Hildebrano.

En el año de 1873, a solicitud de sus propietarios entonces el Dr. D. B. de Irigoyen, D. Alejo Arocena, D. Anacarsis Lanus, D. Ambrosio Lezica y Don Adolfo E. Carranza, hicieron prolijamente mensurados y amojonados estos campos por el Agrimensor Publico D. Valentin Virasoro, mensura y division que fue ordenada y aprobada por el Gobierno de Santiago del Estero.

El espediente original se encuentra archivado en el Ministerio de Gobierno de la Provincia de Santiago, pero un testimonio publico de este espediente con todas sus ocupaciones, esta depositado en esta ciudad en la Oficina de Registro del Escribano D. Ramon F. Lagos, (Pasage Roverano, escritorio num. 34 altos) donde los interesados pueden inspeccionarlo.

Las ciento sesenta y siete y media leguas que se ofrecen en venta, estan divididas en treinta y una suertes de cuatro leguas, cinco de seis leguas, dos de cuatro leguas y una fraccion, una de tres leguas y media y otra de una legua y media.

Todas estas suertes estan perfectamente amojonadas, teniendo cada mojon gravados los numeros de las suertes a que corresponde. El agrimensor señor Virasoro ha adjuntado en su diligencia de mensur los datos principales de la naturaleza de cada una de estas suertes y a pedido de uno de los interesados dio un informe especial sobre las tierras que van venderse que en su mensura estan señaladas y divididas en tres lotes con los numeros 1, 2 y 4 de la seccion del Este.

No publicamos aqui esos informes por su estension, pero los interesados los encontraran en el folleto que hemos publicado y puede obtenerse en nuestra casa Alsina 78.

Esos informes son muy minuciosos y dan una idea exacta de la calidad de estos campos y ellos fueron pasados a los Sres Bates, Stokes y Ca. por cuenta de quienes el agrimensor Sr Virasoro practico la mensura.

Desde la ciudad de Santa Fe a estos campos hay solo treinta y dos leguas. Desde el lote 100 al pueblo de Reconquista, centro de colonias y establecimientos importantes hay veinte y tres leguas.

Ademas del informe del agrimensor Sr Virasoro y del que hemos transcrito los parrafos que se refieren a la estension de tierras que ofrecemos en venta, pueden los interesados consultar el espediente de mensura que se encuentra en poder del escribano Sr Lagos, donde encontraran datos sobre cada una de las suertes.

La riqueza de estas tierras por su feracidad sus ricas aguadas y sus montes esta fuera de toda ponderacion.

Podemos asegurar que antes de dos o tres años estara colonizada la mayor parte de esta zona, pues las colonias de Santa Fe, como puede verse en el mapa adjuto, avanza mas rapidamente hacia ese lado, que es donde estan las tierras mas ricas para la agricultura.

Contribuira poderosamente para el desarrollo de esas colonias la proximidad del puerto de Reconquista, sobre el Rio Parana, como tambien el Ferro Carril que se propone construir la empresa de los Sres. Murricia y Ca.

Es publico y notorio que estos señores acaban de enviar a Santa Fe al Señor Don F. E. Harman, distinguido agronomo ingles, con el objeto de estudiar esas tierras que van inconteneti a ser colonizadas en gran escala.

Estan depositados en el Banco de Londres y Rio de la Plata los fondos necesarios, no solo para los gastos preliminares, sino aquellos que se requieren para la instalacion de varios grandes establecimientos de campo.

En vista de estos antecedentes, es indudable, que antes de muy poco tiempo, esas tierras valdran de 20 a 30 mil pesos fuertes la legua, precio que hoy se obtiene facilmente en las ventas de las tierras proximas a estas para colonias.

Por planos y folletos ocurrir a nuestra casa Alsina 78.

GREAT FIRE

GLASGOW.

Testimonial from Alexr. Sinclair, Esq., Manager, Herald Office, Glasgow

Office of The Glasgow Herald,
Glasgow, 10th Nov., 1883.

Gentlemen,

In connection with the Great Fire in Buchanau Street and Mitchell Street which besieged our premises on Saturday night last, I can say without reserve that your handy "Rapid" Fire-Engines, of which we have seven, did most invaluable service in the hands of our men by preventing the fire catching and in extinguishing it where it was burning. At one of the most critical moments, when the flames had seized upon one of our side rooms and were about to spread to the heart of the building, one of your Machines was applied to the burning parts with the most effectual and gratifying result.

I may add that had one or two of these Extinguishers been upon the roof of our neighbour, Mr Jenkins, the probability was that his building would have been saved, and we would thereby have been preserved from the extreme jeopardy we were in.

Yours truly,
(Signed), ALEXANDER SINCLAIR.
